This column is dedicated to all the letters we receive from you. Any info about yourself or others you want to share with your shipmates will be published here. Think of this as a combination of the bulletin board in the Crew's Mess and the 1MC.

Hello once again, Shipmates! Greetings from sunny Ft. Pierce, Florida, home of the Florida Symphony, AKA car alarms. First of all I would like to apologize to Chuck and Pat Archer for inadvertently placing them in the Witness Protection Program, along a couple other people I'm sure. Not knowing everyone by sight and not having a list of the names of people in the pictures contributed to this oversight. I have devised a solution for this year's reunion. I'd also like to also apologize to Michelle Ostapiej for renaming her Marilyn. Senior moment on steroids. Well with the Mea Culpas out of the way, it's time to turn our attention to this year's reunion in Myrtle Beach, SC. Under the very capable direction of Paul Schramm and Jennifer Wilson, the same dynamic duo who brought you the New Orleans reunion, this should be a very enjoyable and fun filled week. Be sure to fill out the registration form as soon as possible. It can be found further on in the newsletter. I had stated that letters to the editor were rather thin last time, as in non existent due to the editor change, well you've solved that problem as we have quite a few to share with the Bang Gang. So without further adieu here is mail call:

---

HMCS ANDREW B McKAYE Dear Eric, I don't believe we've met, however thanks for taking over the task of putting out the newsletter. I went aboard the BANG in February 1954 and left in March 1957. Sadly, I've been losing contact with the "Gang" since I've not attended a reunion Cleveland, but my wife Jean and I hope to be on board in Myrtle Beach. Enclosed is a small contribution to the slush fund.

Thank you Senior chief for your kind contribution to the slush fund. I sincerely hope you can make it to the Myrtle Beach reunion, I'm sure all the shipmates would be pleased to see you again. I'll even take a picture of you, so you won't end up in Witness Protection! Thanks again for your letter.

LARRY HULL (SKSS) Dear Eric, Please change my email address to Hullman@ca.rr.com, you said your son and grandkids lived in Portsmouth, that's where I went after the '68 Spring Board. I commissioned the 646 boat, SSN Grayling in Kittery, spent 2 years there, GREAT TIME!! Myself and two others rented a place in York Beach, Me. Called the Manor House (winter rental) next to the Ocean House. Great parties there . Paid 55 a month for it. Grayling went to sea in Charleston Dec 69 and I got out in January 70. That was 49 years ago, Wow!

Thanks Larry for your letter, it was great seeing you again at the San Diego reunion, hopefully we'll have one back on the Left Coast in the near future. I remember shortly after I reported on board BANG, we were called topside one night for line handling duty. It was there you not too subtly taught me the meaning of the Naval term "Smartly" . We had some good times on our Sunday afternoon "Pub Crawls" BTW I don't think the Manor House is renting at 55 a month any more.

From Commander Submarine Force Atlantic– Members of the United States Submarine Veterans Inc. (USSVI) held the annual World War II Memorial and Submarine Hall Of Fame ceremony at Naval Station Norfolk on May 16. The ceremony is held each year to remember and honor the submarine veterans who served during World War II and to recognize a submarine that performed above and beyond the call of duty. “Service above self” was what submariners then and now display and with that the sacrifice of time and family, hardship at sea, and the risks inherent to undersea operations, “ said retired Capt. Kenneth R. Karr, the ceremony’s guest speaker. The service opened with a solemn observance known as “The Tolling of The Boats”, during which a bell is rung once for each submarine lost as its name is read aloud. Following this time-honored tradition, Master Chief Logistics Specialist (Submarine) Brett Adams, USS Helena’s (SSN 725) Chief of the Boat, presented a wreath to Ed Kracker and his wife June. Kracker qualified on the USS Bang (SS 385) during World War II and is the oldest submarine qualified veteran in the Hampton Roads area.

Bravo Zulu Ed and June! It couldn't have happened to a nicer and more rewarding couple! The question still remains...What took them so long? I hope we see you in Myrtle Beach!

From our own CO, Bill Fenton- During our Med cruise 1970-71 the 6th Fleet and Bang spent the Christmas/ New Years holidays in Athens. That year the Navy chartered two 747's to fly dependents from Norfolk to Athens and sailors on leave back to Norfolk. Return trips after the holidays were included. It wasn't free but the price of tickets was very attractive. Jim Kronzer and I both took advantage of this package. However things didn't work out as planned and we had a real odyssey getting back to the boat. Our plan was to catch a military hop from Quonset Point to Norfolk to meet the chartered 747. When we got to Quonset Point it was fogged in and nothing was going anywhere. Not good. We called Squadron 8 and got them to write orders for us to accompany an FBM crew flight to Rota and spent the night at Quonset.

Arriving at Rota late the next day we spent the night on the tender with no idea how we were going to get to Athens. Not good. Next morning we caught a Navy plane to Naples and after only 20 minutes on the ground hitched a ride on a Navy mail run to Athens. This was before cell phones and the internet so we had not been able to communicate our status to the boat. We landed in Athens around 6PM (it was winter, so it was dark). There was a Naval Attaché office in a trailer at the airport where we were told Bang had pulled out with rest of the fleet that morning. Not good. We were told they could get us a ride by helo to the carrier JFK and the next time the Bang operated near her we could high line or small boat transfer over to Bang. NOT GOOD! We had visions of what the penalty is for missing movement!

On the chance Bang had not yet left, we decided to take a cab to Piraeus (the port for Athens) just to be sure and when we arrived at the pier around 8PM there was Bang with line handlers on deck, engines running and the maneuvering watch set. I guess Captain Joe Taff (great guy) had waited as long as he could not wanting to go to sea without his OPS/NAV Officer (Jim) and Engineering Officer (me) but couldn't wait any longer. We hitchhiked half way around the world for free arriving 12 hours late. Thankfully nothing was ever said about the incident!

Whew! I'm tired just reading this! This proves the old Navy adage, “Nothing good happens in Quonset after midnight” I also remember when you arrived early to report aboard Bang, this time in Barcelona. So Europe holds some great memories for you. By the way, the penalty for missing movement is NOT GOOD!

From Barbara Gallagher-daughter of Wade Eichorn- My father Wade, designer of the first battle flag has moved to the Texas Veterans Home in Bonham Texas. Wade is doing fairly well, he is 94 yrs old, has dementia along with his long standing PTSD. He did not want to come to the reunion last year because he was sure he would not know anyone. This year I will be in Europe (missing my 24th Evac reunion as well) Please send the newsletters to the new address, hopefully some in the facility will read them to him, other members of the Veteran's home may enjoy them when he is finished. I found the page that has the hats and pins of Wades flag. I will send a note to Ike Cohen and order them.

They wanted to bring their unique perspective to the rising entertainment industry on the Grand Strand and the Alabama Theater was born. Tonight's show, "ONE", brings audiences an incredible entertainment experience featuring everything from Country, Gospel, Broadway, Pop and Rock to plenty of hilarious family comedy. The talented entertainers, extravagant costumes and extraordinary scenery will make you feel like you are in New York or Las Vegas— at a fraction of the price! As always, the charm of emcee and featured vocalist Greg Rowles will make audiences feel at home while crowd favorite Grant Turner, one of the funniest comedians in the country returns as Ricky Mokel with new jokes and antics to entertain and delight everyone.
